3. Decide how to divide each

You will need to decide which gifts will go to whom in your will. You can give a specific item (e.g. a family heirloom), a fixed cash amount, or a percentage of your estate (calculated when all other costs and gifts have been taken into account).

| Name and address | % Share | Fixed amount | Specific item |
|------------------|---------|--------------|---------------|
|                  | %       |              |               |
|                  | %       |              |               |
|                  | %       |              |               |
|                  | %       |              |               |
|                  | %       |              |               |
|                  | %       |              |               |
|                  | %       |              |               |
|                  | %       |              |               |
|                  | %       |              |               |

If a family heirloom is included, how do you divide it?
